Our Picks for Holiday Movies

Favourite Christmas Movies
of the I Love Creston Staff

How the Grinch Stole Christmas (2000)

One name says it all... Jim Carrey. He was born to be the Grinch. This is a successful production in bringing the original animation to real life.

How the Grinch Stole Christmas (1966)

This colourful yet almost scary classic is narrated by Boris Karloff and directed by Chuck Jones (of Bugs Bunny fame). It is still one of the many classic Christmas movies you can still catch on television.

National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation

Another peek into the Griswold family's hilarious antics that turn even Christmas into a train wreck. Look for a minor but hilarious character played by Julia Louis Dreyfus (pre-Seinfeld).

A Christmas Story

This great 1940's holiday classic is for the whole family to enjoy. A young boy sets out to convince his parents, teachers and Santa that a BB gun really is the perfect gift. "You'll shoot your eye out!" This is a movie to watch every Christmas.

The Nightmare Before Christmas

Tim Burton is a genius. Who would every think to bring Halloween and Christmas together? Incredible imagery that pulls you in and makes you a part of what you are watching. It is a dark storyline, but leaves you with a content feeling.

Trapped in Paradise

Three not so bright brothers, Nicholas Cage, John Lovitz and Dana Carvey, successfully rob a bank that my cat could rob. Unfortunately, the locals' kindness and generosity starts to rub off on the trio and they unwillingly begin to grow consciences.

Charlie Brown Christmas

The Peanuts gang is back. Charlie Brown, an emotional and sensitive child tries to look past commercialism and find the true meaning of Christmas. A shot at directing the school Christmas pageant is a failure so he desperately presents a pathetic Christmas tree. Linus saves the day.

(Why do all Peanuts movies make me cry?)

It's a Wonderful Life

"Every time a bell rings, an angel gets its wings!" An angel shows an emotionally distraught Jimmy Stewart how life would have been if he never existed. His journey heals his emotional wounds and he returns home to his family (who think he's talking gibberish).

The Santa Claus

This is another flick for the whole family. Divorcee, Tim Allen inadvertently convinces his son there is a Santa and he can literally prove it. After unintentionally knocking Santa off his roof, Allen puts on the Santa suit and voila – instant Santa.

Favourite Christmas Songs
of the I Love Creston Staff

Silver Bells (1952)

First recorded by the crooner himself, Bing Crosby, this popular tune can change your tired dragging feet into a brisk stride.

We Wish You A Merry Christmas (1962)

Drifting from his career of musical variations, Ray Conniff showed his vocal talents with this jolly song. It's happy lyrics put a smile on your face and arm around a friend.

Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer (1949)

Gene Autry belts out a tune that animates children and reminds us that Santa is real and he believes in equality.

Rudolph is by far the most popular reindeer. If you listen closely, the song could be a fable.

Silent Night (1935)

Bing Crosby has the right tone, personality and powerful voice for this beautiful song recorded early in his career. It's soothing melody and peaceful lyrics are perfect during the post-turkey nap.

Deck the Halls (1940's)

Canadian born Guy Lombardo, hit fame with his recording of Auld Lang Syne, but he sure can Deck the Halls. "Fa la la la la, la la la la" – that's the only lyrics you need to know.

The Twelve Days of Christmas (1842)

James O Halliwell sings this

150-year-old classic song that, in all honesty, you either love or hate. But it is a popular Christmas tune and we all know the words (myself, I'm a fan of the remakes).

Happy Christmas - War is Over (1969)

One of the most influential proponents of peace, John Lennon, sings from his heart asking the world to live in peace. Ironically, this song was recorded within a year of his assassination. Lennon's wife Yoko and a children's choir sing backup vocals, giving the song an innocent sound.

Do They Know it's Christmas (2004)

Twenty years after the haunting "Do They Know It's Christmas", Bandidaid 20 re-releases an updated version to raise money for Africa. This rendition appropriately sounds dark musically while the lyrics project a tone of helplessness and sadness.

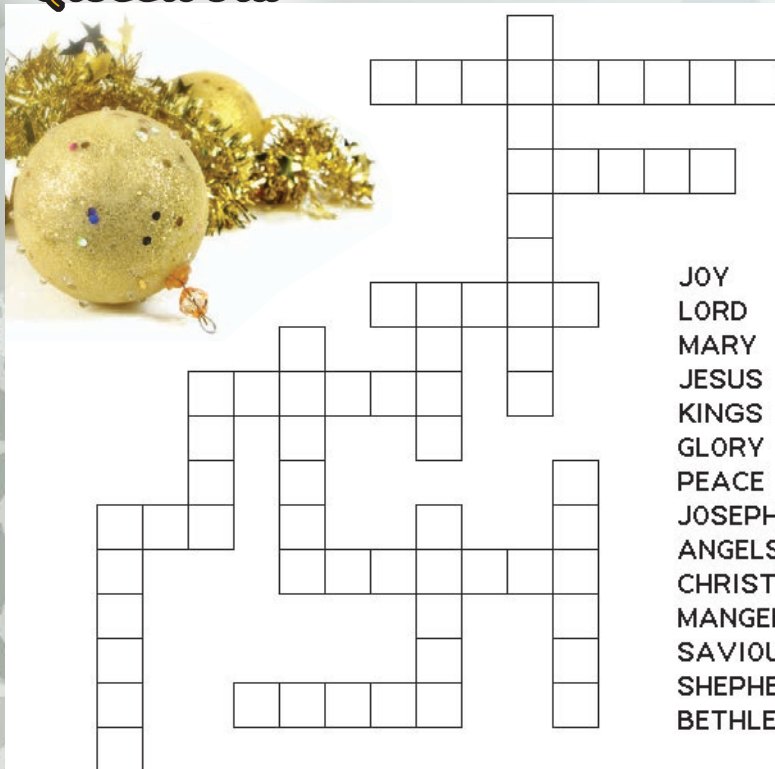

Merry Christmas-I Don't Want To Fight Tonight (2001)

What a phenomenon. The most unlikely bands, such as the Ramones, take a step to release an original Christmas song. It sounds like the Ramones and is rather catchy. The lyrics are simple, a man telling his partner that he doesn't want to fight because it's Christmas.

Fairytale of New York (1987)

Shane McGowan (the Pogues) is backed by intense and emotional instruments back this brilliant lyrical journey. Simply put, a beautiful Irish folk style ballad duet with Kirsty Macoll. Banter of love and anger between the two, coupled with their harmony makes this a powerful song.

Holiday Lore

Poinsettias

www.worldofchristmas.net

Bright, flaming red, star-shaped Poinsettias are known as 'Flower of the Holy Night' or 'Flame Leaf' in the United States. One of the most popular flowers in Central America, it was brought here by Dr. Joel Poinsett, the first US ambassador to Mexico, over a hundred years ago. Still most of the supply of this famous beloved Christmas flower in American cities is said to come from California and the folklore attached to it comes from Mexico. Like Christmas Rose, this flower also represents the deep love for Christ and great devotion of a pure innocent human being to baby Jesus. However, in this instance, the devotees were two beautiful, naïve children who were not so fortunate as their friends to have enough money to do what their heart yearns for.

These poor children from Mexico were known as Maria, the sister and Pablo, her dear little brother. Just like all the other children in the village, they were looking forward to the Christmas festival and the annual Nativity play in which a large manger scene was set up in the village church. The season was full of parades and parties that were mainly centered around this church and all the people, especially children, used to gift presents to the baby child on Christmas Eve. Now, these two children loved Christ and the season of His birth very much but do not had any money to buy something for the baby Christ. They ardently wished to buy something special for the Christ but couldn't even buy the simplest of things for Him.

They were sad at heart and were quite disheartened by their poverty and misery when they set out for church to attend the service. They took the longer route in a vague hope to find dome blossoms to gift the child but couldn't find any. Finally, they picked up some wild weeds growing along the roadside as a gift for the Baby, squared their shoulders and approached the Church door. But how cruel little children can be, when they start teasing their fellow mates. Yet, Maria and Pablo braved their way to the manger and placed the greenery carefully around the manger. What happened next was the biggest surprise for all that were present! Bright red star-shaped flowers burst froth from the weeds and looked most sparkling of all gifts that the Christ child had received that day.

Christmas Trees

www.worldofchristmas.net

One of the most awaited Christmas décor items, especially by kids, is undoubtedly the magical looking Christmas tree. It is said that Christmas tree was included in the celebrations ever since humans observed these evergreen trees glistening in the moonlit sky on a clear night sparkling against the backdrop of white snow. One of the most important Christmas symbols for centuries, Christmas trees were used in many pagan festivals to honor their gods and spirits. Vikings in North Europe considered these evergreen trees a reminder of the Spring that is about to approach and that the Winter will end soon. In ancient England and France, Druids used to honor God of harvests by decorating oak trees with fruit and candles, just as Romans adorned trees with trinkets and candles on Saturnalia.

It is said that the German Christians were the first to bring the trees into their homes to decorate or use a Christmas pyramid made of wood in areas where there was a scarcity of trees. Soon, whole Europe caught up with the trend and the English Royalty popularized it among the elite. Prince Albert, husband of Queen Victoria, decorated the first Christmas tree. They had then used candles, candies, fruits, and gingerbread. Christmas tree came to America with the German immigrants and was accepted by the general public only in the late 1800s. At the time of the first public display of a Christmas tree by German settlers in Pennsylvania, it was considered a symbol of pagans. Till then, apples, nuts, cookies, candies, colored popcorn and candles were the popular Christmas tree ornaments.

In the early 20th century, electricity brought a revolution in Christmas tree decoration. Electrical Christmas lights grew more and more popular every year and now most communities throughout the US feature public displays of Christmas trees. The President of the United States now lights the National Christmas Tree every year in Washington as an indication of the beginning of Christmas celebrations. The huge lighted tree at Rockefeller Center in New York is quite a spectacle and skaters spinning beneath it look like angels. Christmas Tree has now gained popularity all over the world and choosing the right Christmas tree and its ornaments, placing gifts beneath it and opening them at midnight is all now part and parcel of Christmas fun and revelry.

Let's Sing...

Jingle Bells

James Lord Pierpont publ. 1857

Dashing through the snow
On a one-horse open sleigh,
Over the fields we go,
Laughing all the way;
Bells on bob-tail ring,
making spirits bright,
What fun it is to ride and sing
A sleighing song tonight
Jingle bells, jingle bells,
jingle all the way!
O what fun it is to ride
In a one-horse open sleigh

A day or two ago,
I thought I'd take a ride,
And soon Miss Fanny Bright
Was seated by my side;
The horse was lean and lank;
Misfortune seemed his lot;
He got into a drifted bank,
And we, we got upsot.
Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells,
Jingle all the way!
What fun it is to ride
In a one-horse open sleigh.

Have Yourself A Merry Little Christmas

from the film Meet Me In St. Louis.
Hugh Martin, Ralph Blane 1943

Have yourself a merry little Christmas,
Let your heart be light
From now on,
our troubles will be out of sight
Have yourself a merry little Christmas,
Make the Yule-tide gay,
From now on,
our troubles will be miles away.

A day or two ago,
the story I must tell
I went out on the snow
And on my back I fell;
A gent was riding by
In a one-horse open sleigh,
He laughed as there
I sprawling lie,
But quickly drove away.
Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells,
Jingle all the way!
What fun it is to ride
In a one-horse open sleigh.

Now the ground is white
Go it while you're young,
Take the girls tonight
And sing this sleighing song;
Just get a bob-tailed bay
two-forty as his speed
Hitch him to an open sleigh|
And crack! you'll take the lead.
Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells,
Jingle all the way!
What fun it is to ride
In a one-horse open sleigh.

Here we are as in olden days,
happy golden days of yore.
Faithful friends who are dear to us gather near to us once more.

Through the years we all will be together
If the Fates allow Hang a shining star upon the highest bough.
And have yourself a merry little
Christmas now.

Frosty the Snow Man

Frosty the snowman was a jolly happy soul, With a corn-cob pipe and a button nose and two eyes made out of coal.

Frosty the snowman is a fairy tale, they say, He was made of snow but the children know how he came to life one day.

There must have been some magic
in that old silk hat they found.
For when they placed it on his head
he began to dance around.

O, Frosty the snowman
was alive as he could be,
And the children say he could laugh and play just the same as you and me.

Thumpetty thump thump,
thumpety thump thump,
Look at Frosty go.
Thumpetty thump thump,
thumpety thump thump,
Over the hills of snow.

Frosty the snowman knew
the sun was hot that day,
So he said, "Let's run and we'll have some fun now before I melt away."
Down to the village, with a broomstick in his hand,
Running here and there all around the square saying,
Catch me if you can.

He led them down the streets of town right to the traffic cop.
And he only paused a moment when he heard him holler "Stop!"
For Frosty the snow man
had to hurry on his way,
But he waved goodbye saying,
"Don't you cry,
I'll be back again some day."
Thumpetty thump thump,
thumpety thump thump,
Look at Frosty go.
Thumpetty thump thump,
thumpety thump thump,
Over the hills of snow.
